

Solutions Manual for QuickBooks 2015 A Complete Course 16th Horne

QUICKBOOKS 2015: A COMPLETE COURSE

SHORT-TERM ASSIGNMENT SHEET

TEXT: QuickBooks 2015: A Complete Course, by Janet Horne

SUPPLIES: 2 USB drives, 3 file folders, printing paper

PROCEDURES: Read each chapter before coming to class. Answer end-of-chapter questions as homework. Always add your name to the company name.

ASSIGNMENTS: Two of the folders required will be used for the chapter and end-of-chapter assignments. Staple the transmittal for each chapter to the printouts that are assembled in the order listed on the transmittal and submit when instructed. (Note: The transmittal sheets for all problems are found at the end of the chapter or the assignment.)

The third folder will be used for the practice sets. Staple the transmittal for the practice set to the printouts that are assembled in the order listed on the transmittal sheet and submit when instructed.

GRADING: Grades will be based on the successful completion of each assignment, end-of-chapter questions, the practice sets, and the examinations. Failure to complete the problems within the chapters or the end-of-chapter assignments will lower your grade by one letter (Example: an A will be lowered to a B if all work is not submitted). Practice sets (including the exam) are worth 100 points each. Written exams are 50 points each, and the final exam is 100 points.

Total Projected Points

Section 1 Practice Set (including exam)	100
Written Exam Chapters 1-4	50
Section 2 Practice Set (including exam)	100

FILL-IN

IN THE SPACE PROVIDED, WRITE THE ANSWER THAT MOST APPROPRIATELY COMPLETES THE SENTENCE.

1. The report used to view only the balances on account of each customer is the Customer Balance Summary.
2. The form prepared to show a reduction to a sale on account is a(n) credit memo.
3. The report that proves that debits equal credits is the trial balance.
4. QuickBooks shows icons on the Home Page and on the Icon Bar that may be clicked to open the business documents used in recording transactions.
5. To verify the company being used in QuickBooks, you check the title bar.

SHORT ESSAY

Explain how the method used to enter an Accounts Receivable transaction in QuickBooks is different from the method used to enter a transaction in an accounting textbook.

Rather than use a traditional sales journal to record debits and credits as you would when using an accounting text, you record the sales transaction for accounts receivable directly on an invoice. Behind the scenes, QuickBooks places all transactions entered via invoices into the Journal.

CHAPTER 2 LECTURE— SALES AND RECEIVABLES: SERVICE BUSINESS

CHAPTER OBJECTIVES

Students will begin hands-on training using QuickBooks and the service business Computer Consulting by Your Name that was used in Chapter 1. The focus of this chapter is sales—both cash and credit—and cash receipts (payments). Students begin preparing invoices to record sales on account, sales receipts to record cash sales, credit memos to record returns by customers, receive payments to record payments received on account, and deposit slips to make bank deposits of checks received from customers. Students begin printing in QuickBooks. They also prepare a variety of reports and graphs focusing on customers and sales.

LECTURE

- I. Accounting for Sales and Receivables
 - A. Discuss the Invoice and its use as a replacement for a Sales Journal
 - B. Stress the fact that the Customer:Job list is the same as an Accounts Receivable ledger and that the balance of the Customer:Job list will be equal to the balance in the Accounts Receivable account in the Chart of Accounts, which is the same as the General Ledger
 - C. Discuss the Sales Receipt and its use as a replacement for a Cash Receipts journal
 - D. Stress the difference between a Sales Receipt (cash sale) and Receive Payments (payment on account for an existing invoice or balance)

- E. Remind students to use the dates shown in the text for transaction entry
 - 1. The text uses the year 2015, which is the same year as the version of QuickBooks
 - 2. The text dates will not match the dates of the students' computers
 - 3. Using the date of the computer, may cause errors in reports and other entries
 - 4. On some reports, QuickBooks automatically inserts the date of the computer and the date cannot be changed; i.e. Bank Deposit Summary
- II. Discuss Training Procedures
 - A. Read the chapter before beginning the assignment
 - B. When a section is completed, put an X or a check mark on the Do arrow at the beginning of the section
 - C. If a section is not completed and you stop working, write the date of the work session next to the last step/task completed
 - D. Review the necessity of closing a company when you finish work
 - E. Discuss the importance of backing up a company at the end of a work session (Directions provided in Ch. 1)
 - F. When students are storing data on a USB drive, stress the need to make sure the computer has finished recording data and that they follow the procedures for safely removing the USB (Illustrated in Ch. 1) prior to removing the disk from the computer

LECTURE NOTE

This lecture is designed to be shown in a “live” demonstration where students can see QuickBooks in action. The lecture parallels the text but does not go into the same detail and contains a few illustrative examples. For continuity and by necessity, reports will show totals obtained from the lecture transactions.

COMPUTER DEMONSTRATION AND LECTURE

- XVII. Students should do the training in the chapter and print as directed
- A. During training, students should use the QuickBooks Backup feature to back up their work each day. Suggested backup name: Computer (Daily Backup)
 - B. Students should also use Windows Explorer to make a duplicate disk to have in case the original work disk or data file is lost or damaged (If time allows, demonstrate the way to make a duplicate company file on a second USB drive.)
 - C. When the chapter is complete, students should make a second backup. Suggested name: Computer (Backup Ch. 2)
 - D. At the end of the chapter, students should answer the True/False, Multiple Choice, Fill-in, and Essay questions
 - E. Students should turn in the printouts made within the chapter
 - 1. Put the transmittal sheet on top
 - 2. The printouts organized in the order listed on the transmittal should follow

In preparation for your Chapter 3 lecture, you may want to Restore the Computer (Backup Ch. 2).qbb file that has been provided in the online instructor's manual. This contains everything that was done during the training in the text for Chapters 1 and 2.

Chapter 2

Sales And Receivables: Service Business

Chapter Focus: Sales

- Record credit sales by completing an invoice
 - Invoice replacement for Sales Journal
 - Use Customer: Job List as Accounts Receivable Subsidiary Ledger
 - Balance of Customer: Job List = balance of Accounts Receivable account in Chart of Accounts
 - Use Chart of Accounts as General Ledger
- Record a cash sale by completing a sales receipt
 - Sales Receipt replacement for Cash Receipts Journal

Lecture Note

- Examples in lecture may or may not match textbook
- Lectures illustrate key points within chapters
- Lectures do not contain every transaction completed in text
- Not everything presented in chapters will be shown in lecture
- Some parts of lecture show results of transactions entered in lecture

Company File

- Lecture uses the company Computer Consulting by Your Name for demonstration
- To complete training in Chapter 2, open:
 - QuickBooks
 - Computer Consulting by Your Name company file

Quick Books Trial Version and Company File

- If you did not complete Chapter 1, refer to Chapter 1 to:
 - Download company file from Pearson Web site
 - Add your name to company name
 - Optional: Install and register trial version of QuickBooks
- For updates, new material, and errata, refer to www.PearsonHigherEd.com/Horne Web site periodically

Date (1 of 6)

- Pay special attention to dates when recording transactions
- Frequent Problems:
 - Forget to enter date used in text
 - Use computer date for a transaction
 - Incorrect dates may cause problems in
 - reports
 - other transaction information

Date (2 of 6)

- Text uses 2015
- 2015 may not match date of your computer
- Acceptable to use current year when training
 - If you use current year, be consistent
 - Remember text and solutions show 2015 and your work will show current year

Date (3 of 6)

- In business documents and reports QuickBooks always inserts:
 - Computer date
 - Or date of last transaction
- If date used in training is different, you must enter it

Date (4 of 6)

- Examples where QuickBooks allows you to change date from computer's date:
 - Some business documents—invoice, sales receipt, etc.
 - Some reports—Journal, Trial Balance, etc.

Date (5 of 6)

- Example where QuickBooks will not allow you to change date:
 - Bank Deposit Summary, QuickBooks uses computer's date when printing
- If you cannot change date, accept QuickBooks' printed date

Date (6 of 6)

- Possible errors caused by using different dates
 - Use 2015 for some transactions and 2016 or 2017 for others
 - Reports for 2015 will not show entries for 2016 or 2017
 - Balances and totals will not match those provided

Sales on Account

- To record a sale on account, create an invoice
- A sale on account is
 - Purchase made by a customer
 - and charged to his/her account with company
- Behind the scenes QuickBooks:
 - Records information on invoice into Journal
 - Posts transaction
 - Debits:
 - Accounts Receivable in Chart of Accounts (General Ledger)
 - Customer's individual account in Customers & Jobs List (Accounts Receivable Subsidiary Ledger)
 - Credits proper income account
